TO ORGANIZE A FAIR ASSOCIATION

MASS MEETING CALLED FOR NEXT SATURDAY TO DISCUSS.

TAKE ABOUT $25,000

The Old Fair Grounds Can be Purchased for $14,000 and Is Well Worth the Money at Price.

Plans for the organization of a county fair association to buy the old fair grounds and to put on a fair this year have been started by the Chamber of Commerce and a committee composed of M. E. Ford, R. P. Hosmer and E. A. Barmann were selected to have charge of the work for the temporary organization.

A meeting of the breeders and farmers of this county has been called for Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the court house when it is expected some favorable action will be taken toward starting a fair association.

The old fair grounds containing twenty-two acres can be purchased for $14,000. There are many improvements on the grounds. The committee thinks $25,000 should be raised which would leave $11,000 for other needed improvements to the ground.

There has been talk for some time of organizing a county fair association and there is a great deal of sentiment over the county for such an organization.

SCHOOL ADDITION PLANS ACCEPTED

FRONT FACADE OF BOTH BUILDINGS TO BE UNIFORM.

COMPLETED BY SEPT, 1

Architect and State Board Educational Expert Hold Conference With School Board Last Night.

Definite action in the proposed new addition to the high school was taken by the school board last night in the decision of building plans. The board met in consultation with H. B. Pampel, architect of Kansas City and Miss Regina Friant, extension worker with the state board of education under the Smith-Hughes act.

The new addition as decided last night will extend ninety feet north and south and sixty feet east and west and be placed at the north end of the present high school, the front facade of the entire building being on a straight line and of uniform architecture. Throughout the architecture of the new addition will conform to that of the main building.

The gymnasium will occupy the entire first floor. The heighth of the ceiling here will be twenty-two feet, the floor being dropped six weet in order that the line of the second story will conform to the twelve foot height of the main building. The gym will be provided with movable seats and other equipment of a first class athletic court.

On the upper floor will be six class rooms and a part of these will be used for the class rooms and laboratories of the Smith-Hughes home economics department. Miss Friant, who is an educational expert in this line and has under her supervision the Smith-Hughes departments of thirty-two high schools in Missouri, aided in planning the setting of the rooms for this department.

A model house, by which the students will be taught home care, sanitation and hygiene in all divisions is one of the parts of the home economics departments. The fall term will be the beginning of the second year's work for the Smith-Hughes department and accommodations must be made for the advanced and beginning classes. The high school course in itself provides for a one year course and the Smith-Hughes for a two years course. Miss Katherine Carpenter is the Smith-Hughes instructor and Miss Balnum the high school teacher.

There will be a full sized basement under the addition in which lockers, store rooms and shower baths will be installed. Some of the details of this plan as decided upon by the board will have to be worked out by the architect before the board is ready to receive bids from contractors.

It is planned to have the new addition completed by the opening of the September term of school.

LINCOLN NOMINATED SIXTY YEARS AGO

E. F. WOOD, CHICAGOAN, HAS RECORD OF FIRST CONVENTION.

WAS A STORMY SESSION

First G. O. P. Meeting at Chicago in 1860 Held in Temporary Wooden Structure Costing 5,000.

Chicago, May 25.—The convening of the Republicans in Chicago, June 8, to nominate a candidate for president recalls afresh at this time the Republican convention opening here sixty years ago which nominated Abraham Lincoln. This was the second national Republican convention and the first of the many which have since been held in Chicago.

The convention assembled on May 16, 1860, and Lincoln was nominated on May 19, the third and last day. After his election feeling aroused by the slavery issue ran quickly into civil war.

Relics of the campaign of 1860, including the oil painting of the "rail splitter," are preserved by the Chicago Historical society. E. E. Wood, field secretary of the society, has just prepared what he regards as the most complete account of the events of the convention of sixty years ago. In this he calls attention to Addison G. Proctor, of Ann Arbor, Mich., who, Mr. Wood believes, is the only surviving delegate of the convention.

Chicago in 1860 was a promising city of 110,000 not quite twenty-five years old. It had won the convention by the offer to build the largest assembly hall in the country and fill it at every session. Accordingly the "Wigwam" arose at the southwest corner of Lake and Market streets, occupying a space 100 by 180 feet. It was a temporary wooden structure costing a little over the estimated 5,000. The balance was made up by charging 25 cents admission on its formal opening the Saturday before the convention.

Few Republican conventions, if any have been so charged with excitement or had so spectacular an ending. Lincoln's prospects appeared small enough before the convention opened. The favorite was William H. Seward, senator from New York. He had a great asset in the ability of Thurlow Weed, who prosecuted his campaign among the delegates. He suffered a handicap in the determined opposition of Horace Greeley, the famous New York editor, who had no candidate of his own but refused to have Seward. Both Greeley and Weed were early on the ground, and, according to Mr. Wood's review, the centers of interest. He notes, however, that other and non-political attractions, were numerous, among them being Zouaves, circus band, minstrels, and such well known theatrical pieces of the day as "Lucretia Borgia" and "The Hidden Hand."

The slavery issue came up quickly on the first day of the convention, when David Wilmot of Pennsylvania, on taking the chair as temporary chairman, made a ten-minute anti-slavery speech. "No extension of slavery" became an essential part of the platform next day.

Move to Idaho.

Mrs. Elmer Woods and children will leave in a few days for Spirit Lake, Idaho, to join Mr. Woods, who went there about a month ago and they will make their home at Spirit Lake in the future.

LOWDEN SPENT $38,000 HERE

CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT SPENT LIBERALLY IN MO.

MONEY TO "LIV" MORSE

Senate Committee Is Also Investigating Money Spent by the Other Candidates for President.

Kansas City, May 25.—"I can give absolutely no information on the expenditure of -38,703 in Missouri by agents of Governor Lowden or the cinching of the Missouri Republican delegation," Thomas Marks, Jackson county republican leader declared today. "Any story that 'Liv' Morse had a row over spending Lowden funds is a malicious lie," Marks added.

Morse's son at Excelsior Springs declared his father was in Chicago. Who nasked regarding the spending of the Lowden funds by his father, the son replyed he knew "nothing about it, but you can bet it was spent legitimately."

Washington, May 25.—To Hoover National Republican Club, the national organization of the presidential campaign of Herbert Hoover, have been contributed a total of $62,156.76, John Lucey of New York City, one of Hoover's campaign managers, testified today before the Senate Committee investigating the preconvention presidential campaign expenditures and contributions.

The contributions to the national organization have been exclusive of those received by the Hoover clubs in various states, Lucey explained. No contributions have been received by the national organization from any corporations, Lucey declared and none have been above $1,000.

Washington, May 25.—Louis L. Emmerson of Illinois, treasurer of the Lowden campaign committee, told the Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures yesterday afternoon that $38,763 has been used to create Lowden sentiment in Missouri. By far the largest part of this sum, he said, went to E. L. Morse of Excelsior Springs. He did not recall the exact amount. He said that $2500 had been sent to Nat Goldstein of St. Louis, $2500 to Robert Moore of St. Louis, and $1000 to Fred Essen of Clayton.

"What was this money to be spent for?" asked Senator Reed in the course of a sharp grilling of the witness.

Emmerson replied it was for the caucuses and the usual expenses of a campaign. He said he did not know the details of the expenditure, the money having been sent to a few individuals to use in their discretion. Reed remarked to the committee that the amount spent in Missouri was more than $1000 per delegate.

"Is that the usual amount?" asked Senator Edge of New Jersey, and the committee laughed.

Gov. Lowden's fund for his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination totals $404,984.78, including contributions, Emmerson testified today at the opening of the Senate's investigation of contributions and expenditures. Emmerson, whose home is at Mt. Vernon, is Secretary of State of Illinois.

Emmerson said the Governor first had refused to accept any contributions, saying he would furnish all funds himself and he testified that the Governor had turned over to him $379,175.78. Contributions from other sources, he said, totalled $35,825.

Frank H. Hitchcock, one of Major-General Leonard Wood's campaign managers, and Angus McSween, Eastern manager for Senator Hiram Johnson of California, were important witnesses in the opening of the investigation and pledges made for Republican and Democratic candidates for the presidential nominations.

Hitchcock told the Senators that, so far as he knew, the largest sum spent in any one state by the Wood organization was $15,000 in New Jersey, and that the next largest was $12,500 in Maryland.

McSween told the committee that the total of contributions received for the Senator's campaign was $68,120. The largest, he said, was $27,000, from R. B. Straussberger of Norristown, Pa. William Flynn of Pittsburg furnished $7,500, the witness declared. Other contributions listed by McSween included $5,000 by Mayor Cozens of Detroit, $5,000 by J. L. Calvary, of Pittsburg, $2,000 by Ralph J. Bullowa "and friends" of New York and $1,000 by J. S. Wilhoit of New York. McSween said expenditures for Johnson had been $72,230.

The Johnson organization spent $13,207 in New Jersey, $4,100 of which was sent to Representative John I. Nolan, and the Committee on Arrangements, McSween testified. In Indiana, he continued, "our figures show $8790 spent, $5000 going in the last week while the Senator was campaigning there."

McSween said Senator Johnson's California headquarters had furnished $87000. The witness described Straussberger as an "admirer of Senator Johnson" and he had been a steady contributor and had been closely associated with the management of the Senator's campaign.

There were three men, a woman stenographer, and "a woman's bureau with one woman employed" in Johnson headquarters at New York." The Western headquarters at San Francisco, he said, he did not know about.

"I can report, however, on all contributions received, with the exception of about $1,000," he said, and then placed the total at $68,138.

"We have been in constant financial straits," he continued, "and unable to undertake the work that seemed possible. We have a balance unpaid of $31000, having disbursed $72,220.

"In New York we spent $13,000 putting delegates in the primary, and in circulating literature."

Hitchcock said that, in New York, "as in a number of other states," the Wood supporters "financed their own campaign in their own way," without asking for assistance from the Wood organization.

Some Money Sent to Him.

Hitchcock told the committee he had no information regarding details of contributions to Gen. Wood's campaign; that he had made it a condition upon joining the Wood forces that he would have nothing to do with gathering campaign funds. Some individuals, he added, had sent monew to him direct, but this, he said, would not exceed $25,000.

Hitchcock said that in Michigan the Wood campaign was financed "by local people," without any call on the national organization. Colonel Fred Alger, of Detroit, he said was the state chairman.

Hamilton Kane, Republican national committeeman in New Jersey, took charge of the Wood expenditures in that state, the witness testified, adding that all of the money used in that state was accounted for under the direct primary law. The witness referred the committee to the treasurer of the Wood campaign.

PRESIDENT WISHES ARMENIAN CONTROL

BELIEVES AMERICAN WISH IS TO SHIELD NEW REPUBLIC.

NO ACTION IN SENATE

No Change of Senate Acting Finally Until After the Proposed Summer Recess.

Washington, May 25. — There is scant prospect of the Senate agreeing to the President's recommendation of the United States to assume mandate for Armenia, the Republican leaders believe today. Senator Lodge said of the President's proposal there was no chance of the Senate acting finally on it until after the proposed summer recess.

President Wilson yesterday asked authority from congress for the United States to accept a mandate over Armenia.

The president told congress that he thought the wish of the American people was that the United States should become the mandatory for Armenia.

The President's communication cited the resolution adopted by the senate this month expressing "the hope that stable government, proper protection of individual leberties and the full realization of nationalistic aspiration may soon be attained by the Armenian people," and asking that a warship and marines be sent to the port of Batum to protect American interests and continued:

"I received and read this document with great interest, with genuine gratification, not only because it embodies my own convictions and feelings with regard to Armenia and its people, but also, and more particularly, because it seemed to me the voice of the American people expressing their genuine convictions and deep Christian sympathies and intimating the line of duty which seemed to them to lie clearly before us."

DEVELOP PURE-BRED STOCK TRADE WITH SOUTH AMERICA

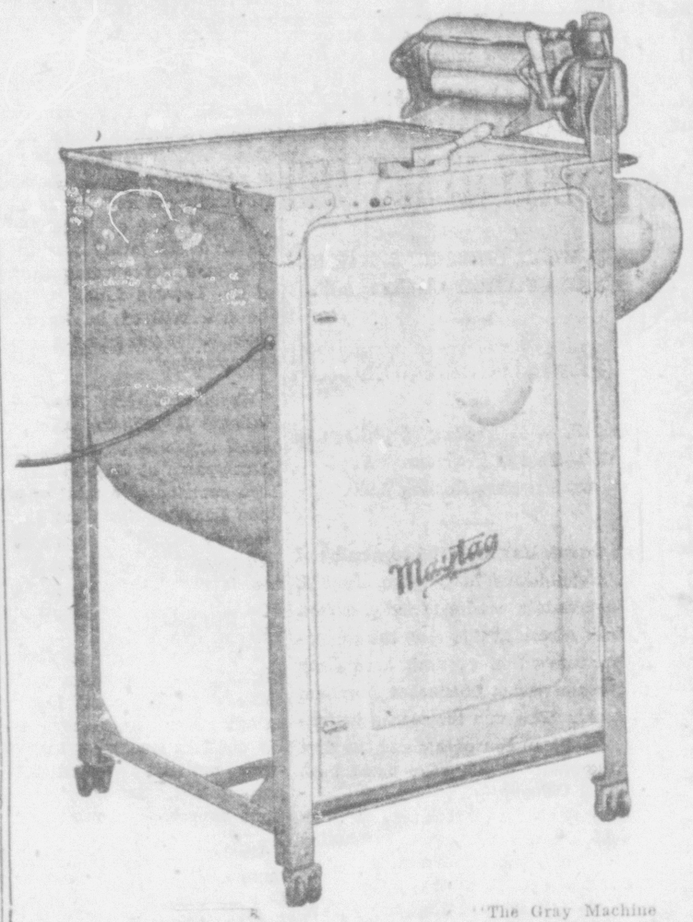
F. L. Garrett of Poland-China Association Receives Request for Information Regarding Industry.

Frank Garrett, secretary of the Standard Poland-China Association, has received a letter from the foreign markets service of the department of agriculture, which is making an effort to develop trade in pure bred live stock in South America, asking for any information regarding the industry in this section, which would be of benefit to the commissioners sent by the government to South America to obtain information.

Last year two live stock commissioners, David Harrell and H. P. Morgan were sent through the foreign markets service of the bureau of markets to South America to make a preliminary survey. As a result important contracts were made and several hundred pure bred cattle and hogs valued at approximately a half million dollars have been sent to South America. The principal trade has been with Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina.

Arrangements are again being made to send two representatives of the department to South America and they are planning to leave the United States about June 15. L. B. Burk of the bureau of markets, and E. Z. Russell of the bureau of animal industry, have been selected for this work. Their work will be to follow up the shipments that have already been made, to get information as to whether the stock is satisfactory and gain further information as to the best procedure for developing additional trade.

Miss Ethel Muntz spent Sunday at Bedford, Ia., the guest of Mrs. A. L. Bristow.



"The Gray Machine with the Red Stripe"

Why the Maytag Washes Any Fabric Perfectly

Unlike other washing machines, the cylinder of the Maytag has only five openings, each one constructed on the principle of the old-fashioned millrace. As the cylinder revolves, the hot, soapy water is forced through these openings. It breaks inside with a forceful action which thoroughly flushes the dirt out of the clothes. At least 5 times with each revolution of the cylinder this flushing action takes place. Results are astonishing.

No hands could be more gentle than the smooth aluminum Maytag cylinder. Positively nothing touches the clothes except the sudsy water. It flushes through the fabric carrying the dirt with it and leaving spotless cleanliness. Dainty georgette blouses, delicate frocks, lingerie, etc., are beautifully cleansed. Big washings, including sheets, spreads, heavy dresses and underwear, even drapes and rag rugs, are handled with unusual speed.

Come to our store and see the Maytag—see its strong, all-metal construction, its durable cast-aluminum cylinder. See how in the Maytag, all moving parts are enclosed. See how easy it is to start and how quietly it runs and see the quick release, adjustable electric wringer. And we want you to understand the wonderful action of the Millrace Principle. Then judge for yourself if without these features you could ever be fully satified.

All fabrics are woven like a screen. Most dirt clogs the meshes. The forceful action produced by the Millrace Principle flushes the dirt out of the meshes—the logical way.

OPPOSE INCREASE IN RAIL PASSENGER FARES

President Willard in Statement Before Inter-State Commerce Commission Says Raise Is Unwise.

Washington, May 25.—Opposition to the increases in passenger fares was voiced today by President Willard appearing before the interstate commerce commission to support the rate increases asked by the carriers to net a billion dollars increased revenue.

"Passenger fares would be increased to four or five cents a mile to place them relatively as profitable basis as the freight traffic", Willard declared, "and unquestionably such an advance would be unwise."

PROFITEERS THRIVE CONGRESS INACTIVE

PRICES CONTINUE TO RISE UNHINDERED AND UNCHECKED.

IGNORE REDUCING PLANS

No Action Taken on Recommendations for Legislation to Reduce High Cost Made by President.

Washington, D. C.—The inactivity of Congress while an orgy of profiteering continued and the failure of the legislative branch to consider six separate recommendations made by the President to check profiteering were brought to public attention by a speech by Senator David I. Walsh, of Massachusetts.

Senator Walsh recited the enormous profits made by various profiteering interests and warned that discontent and national unrest was increasing while Congress remained passive.

"The inactivity of Congress," he exclaimed, "presents a spectacle of indifference that has seldom been surpassed since the courtles of Louis the Fourteenth reveled while the French peasants were eating grass. While the story of profiteering is being recited from pulpit and soap box, prices continue to rise unhindered and unchecked."

Since last October, Senator Walsh said, Congress has done nothing to reduce the cost of living and check profiteering except to amend the Lever Act to bring a few articles within its provisions. Congress did pass a law that authorized the sale of five million barrels of surplus flour held by the army, but this flour was distributed among suffering European peoples and not among American consumers. This might have checked profiteering somewhat across the water, said Senator Walsh, but it relieved the American profiteer of the fear of just that much competition.

Again scoring Congress for inactivity and recalling that the President had asked action many months ago, Senator Walsh said:

"It is not amiss to pause here and point to the positively wanton indifference and irresponsiveness of Congress to the proposals made thus far to alleviate the suffering of our people. Why have we not taken action on the various 'blue-sky laws' that have come up before us; on the Kenyon-Kendrick and Gronna bills, which followed out the suggestions of Mr. Hoover and of the Federal Trade Commission in regard to independent abatteirs and a separation of packing houses and stockyards as a means of lowering meat prices? Why must we still answer, 'nothing done,' on the punitive measures against profiteers urged by the public and the press; on the McNary bill, intended to make compulsory the stamping of costs of manufacture and distribution of articles enroue from maker to consumer; and on the several other such bills and resolutions coming up before us? It remains the lamentable truth, that we have limited our efforts in behalf of our imposed-upon classes to a pitiful and totally cumbrous and unworkable extension of the Lever Act and the organization of a Sugar Board, which, so far as it appears by the very action of the profiteers themselves has been rendered incapable of functioning.

HUERTA MADE TEMORARY PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

Congress Gives Him Big Vote Over General Gonzales—First Official Act Is Postponment Election.

Mexico City, May 25. — Governor Huerta of the State of Sonoro, who was elected provisional president of Mexico by the Mexican congress last night will take his oath of office on June 1. Congress today was summoned to meet June 1 for that purpose. Huerta received 222 votes against 28 for General Gonzale. The new incumbent holds office under the "Agua Prieta plan" and already has postponed the presidential elections from July 4 to September 5, under authority of the "Agua Prieta plan," which makes him supreme chief of the liberal constitutional army. He exercised the same authority in calling the extraordinary session of congress.

President Venustiano Carranza committed suicide rather than be taken prisoner according to a telgram given out yesterday afternoon at the headquarters of General Gonzalez. It purports to have been sent from Cerro Azul, state of Puebla the morning of Thursday, May 20, by Col. Rodolfo Herrero, who, previous reports have stated, was responsible for Carranza's death.

Washington, May 25.—Official confirmation of the election of Huerta as provisional president of Mexico was received by the state department this afternoon.

We Have Forced Shoe Prices Down!

But We Can't Keep Them Down

The opinion of experts all over the country is that the recent price cutting by retail dealers will result in a depletion of stocks and consequent higher prices later.

There is good foundation for this opinion because we know that the shortage and high price of labor is reducing the production of raw material. Therefore when present stocks are sold we are very liable to pay more money—in fact we are paying more for fall stock.

But that don't make any difference—we have the shoes and we are bound to sell them regardless of our profit. It will be much to your advantage to take advantage of this fact and make your shoe money go further.

Eastern markets reported a continued dull demand for fat cattle especially heavy steers, and lower prices for hogs.

TODAY'S RECEIPTS.

Receipts today were 10,000 cattle, 14,000 hogs, and 15,000 sheep, compared with 8500 cattle, 18,000 hogs, and 12,500 sheep a week ago, and 18,300 cattle, 15,650 hogs, and 10,700 sheep a year ago.

Heavy steers sold mo slowly than light weights but th condition prevails at all market Good to choice weighty steers brough $12.00 to $12.50, and included choic pulpers at $12.00 to $12.10. Hand weight steers sold mostly at $11.5 to $12.25, and mixed yearlings up t $13.00. Cows and heifers were in bet ter demand than steers with price fully steady. Cows and heifers were in better demand than steers with prices fully steady. Veal calves were irregular, light weights lower and heavies strong.

STOCKERS AND FEEDERS.

Some choice thin feeders sold readily at strong prices, but the fleshy feeders and stockers were barely steady. Receipts continued moderate. Feeders sold at $9.50 to $11.50, and stockers $8.00 to $10.75. Small inquiry was reported for stock cows, heifers and calves.

HOGS.

Hog prices at the outset were steady to 10 cents lower, but before packers had bought many hogs other markets reported rather sharp declines and the close here was 15 to 25 cents lower. The top price was $14.55, and the bulk of the offerings sold at $14.00 to $14.35. The price spread in the bulk of sales was the narrowest for some months past, and was made largely of medium to strong weight grades. Pigs and stock hogs were lower at $12.50 to $13.50.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

Prices for sheep and lambs were steady. Demand was active and most of the liberal supply was sold. Spring lambs both native and westerns brought $14.00 to $15.75. Some 81 pound Texas yearlings brought $12.00, and wethers $10.00 to $10.35 with ewes $8.50 to $9.00. Goats were steady with fat and brusher grades $4.75 to $5.25.
